

What will 2016 hold for you?

You have the ability to make 2016 an exceptional year by understanding and applying the cycles of time that apply in your life based upon your date of birth.

Everything follows a cycle pattern--the ebb and flow of tides, the phases of the moon, comet appearances, the rotation of the earth around the sun, the changing seasons, the seeding and harvesting of crops, the migration and hibernation of birds and animals, the bull and bear markets in business, the rise and fall of empires--to name only a few.

Everyone is born into time and governed by the natural progression of cycles from the first breath of life until the last breath. Within the period of time called life, the minutes, hours, days, months, and years bring changing conditions, thoughts, opportunities, successes, and failures. These fluctuating circumstances of life are not as haphazard as they appear to be.

There is a definite, intelligent pattern to life, and a basic, logical, consistent reason for everything. That pattern and reason are embodied within mathematics and the Cyclic Law. With knowledge of your personal cycle, you can make decisions with complete confidence because you will know with absolute certainty when to start new endeavours, when to promote, to hold back, when to expand, and when to expect the rewards for efforts expended.

There is a time to sow, and a time to reap...

When one makes decisions contrary to the nature of the day, events do not work out as desired, thus mistakes and disappointments are experienced. You should know the cyclic conditions affecting your thinking and judgment. You know there are times when everything seems to come your way with the least effort, and at other times, despite all you do, nothing seems to work in your favour. These are the cyclic conditions through which you are passing.

Plan your future with confidence with a personal Cycle Chart.
