Life Analysis Training teaches the relationship of mathematics, language, name, and mind. You will discover that when you break words down to mathematical formulae, the quality or nature of the words is revealed. It is the same as in chemistry, except the elements of the word (such as in a name) reveal the character of a person, definable in thought, expression, and deed.

By understanding the concepts in Life Analysis Training, you can maximize the benefits of your Name Report and discover how to use the knowledge demonstrated in your report for greater personal success and spiritual fulfilment by understanding the depth of your inner potential.

You will be able to apply the knowledge taught to yourself, your family, friends, and business associates and understand how you can create lasting happiness, better health, harmony in relationships, and abundant success in your business life.
