PRINCIPLES IN ACTION

Principles in Action is About Active Studentship in the Kabalarian Philosophy

“Before a student can positively and truthfully claim to be a Kabalarian philosopher, he must govern his moods and emotions to allow him to meet all issues and problems calmly and intellectually; i.e., he must not jump to illogical conclusions but must see and understand the viewpoints of others, and have the wisdom to appreciate and apply Principle in all matters.” Excerpt from, Principles in Action.

If one learns to apply philosophy to one’s thinking and actions, there will never be doubt as to the reason of things and one will not concoct illogical alibis for unfortunate revelations. It is the application of philosophy in one’s thinking that discloses the working of cause and effect in human affairs.

Laying out a plan of application and living the principles consistently brings untold benefits in health, personal happiness, in harmony with others, in business success, and in spiritual fulfilment.

The weekend seminar includes video presentations, personal instruction, and interaction with assistants in a work group setting. Delicious meals are provided.

Call Dhorea Delain or Don Maxwell at 866-489-1188 (toll-free in North America) or 604-263-9551 (local and international) to register.
